 SPECIAL NOTICE

AFTER TWENTY FIVE YEARS of devoted and unselfish service as Editor of The South Atlantic Bulletin, Frank M. Duffey has resigned. The South Atlantic Modern Language Association (SAML A) is pleased to acknowledge its tremendous debt to him for his splendid hard work and dedication to the official journal of the Association. The SAB, now firmly established as a quarterly journal devoted to teaching and scholarship in English and the other modern languages and literatures, is an organism that will now build upon what he, by and large, has developed over the years. During 1978, when I am Acting Editor, I shall attempt to insure that the SAB does not stand still, that it will continue to develop in ways that will benefit our membership of over 4,200 people and serve the profession.

ALL THE ESSAYS in this issue were accepted by the 1977 Editorial Board and by Professor Duffey, and I gratefully acknowledge their help in the preparation of this volume. The remaining backlog of accepted manuscripts will be published in the next issue (May 1978), if possible, and a few new essays will be published in May with this group.

THE SOUTH ATLANTIC BULLETIN will publish a special 50th Anniversary Issue for the November 1978 number. Essays of distinction and wide appeal, written in the English language, are being sought. All submissions to the SAB must be in duplicate, one of which must be an original copy on bond paper prepared according to the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (New York, 1977). Only members of SAML A may submit essays. U.S. Postage to cover mailing costs must accompany the materials submitted.
